This is responsive to the Office Action of October 15, 2004 to which response is due by November 15, 2004.

The Office Action indicates that Claims 1-12 are pending in the application and requires an election in this application between Group I, Claims 1-4, 10-12 and Group II, Claims 5-9. Attached please find a copy of a Preliminary Amendment that was filed with this application deleting claims 5-9, 11 and 12. Please enter this amendment. This renders the election requirement moot.

Additionally enclosed, in case this has not been received, is an Amendment to the Related Applications section of the application. This was mailed to the Office on June 20, 2004.

If the Examiner has any questions or comments, please call the undersigned immediately.

This application is a continuation application of US Serial Number 10/132,013 filed on 04/25/2002 which claims the foreign priority of the following Japanese applications: Serial Number 2001-141157 filed on May 11, 2001, 2001-198609 filed on June 29, 2001 and 2002-63522 filed on April 8, 2002. The entire disclosures of all of these applications are incorporated herein by reference. --

In the Claims:

Delete claims 5-9, 11 and 12 from in the application as filed herewith prior to calculating the government filing fee:

1. (Original) A midsole including a cushioning structure, which is provided between an outer sole and an upper and is suitable for absorbing a shock of landing, wherein:
the cushioning structure comprises a thick plate-shaped or column-shaped cushioning portion;

a plurality of grooves is formed on an outer peripheral surface of the cushioning portion;
the respective grooves are helically formed around a substantially vertical axial line;
the respective grooves are arranged substantially parallel with each other; and a range in which each of the grooves is formed is larger than a range of 15 degrees around the axial line and smaller than a range of 180 degrees around the axial line.

2. (Original) A midsole including a cushioning structure according to claim 1, wherein a lead angle between the groove and a horizontal plane is set within a range of 35 degrees to 60 degrees.

Applicant has added a Related Applications section to clearly claim the priority rights in the parent application (USSN 10/132,013) and the indicated filed Japanese applications. Certified copies of these Japanese applications were filed in the parent application.

Applicant has deleted Claims 5-9, 11 and 12. The subject matter of these claims is covered in Applicant's parent application. The remaining claims, 1-4 and 10 remain in this continuing application. Applicant also encloses copies of the Notice of References Cited (PTO-892) and Information Disclosure Citations (PTO A820) of record in the parent application.

The Office Action of October 06, 2004 in the parent application rejected the claims now presented herein (Claims 1-4 and 10) under 35 USC 102(a) in view of Reference Q, ASICS Spring 2002 Footwear Catalog, page 1, indicated as published on May 16, 2001. This cited ASICS Catalog was published by ASICS TIGER Corporation. ASICS Tiger Corporation, for which the undersigned is Vice President and General Counsel, is a wholly owned subsidiary of ASICS Corporation, the corporation to which this application has been assigned (see Fee/Frame 012840/0943). Thus, the cited reference discloses subject matter derived, originated and obtained from the applicant rather than invented by another. Thus, the cited reference can not be used.

Applicant respectfully requests that this application pass to issuance.

All statements made herein made of my own knowledge are true and all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further the statements are made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code.
